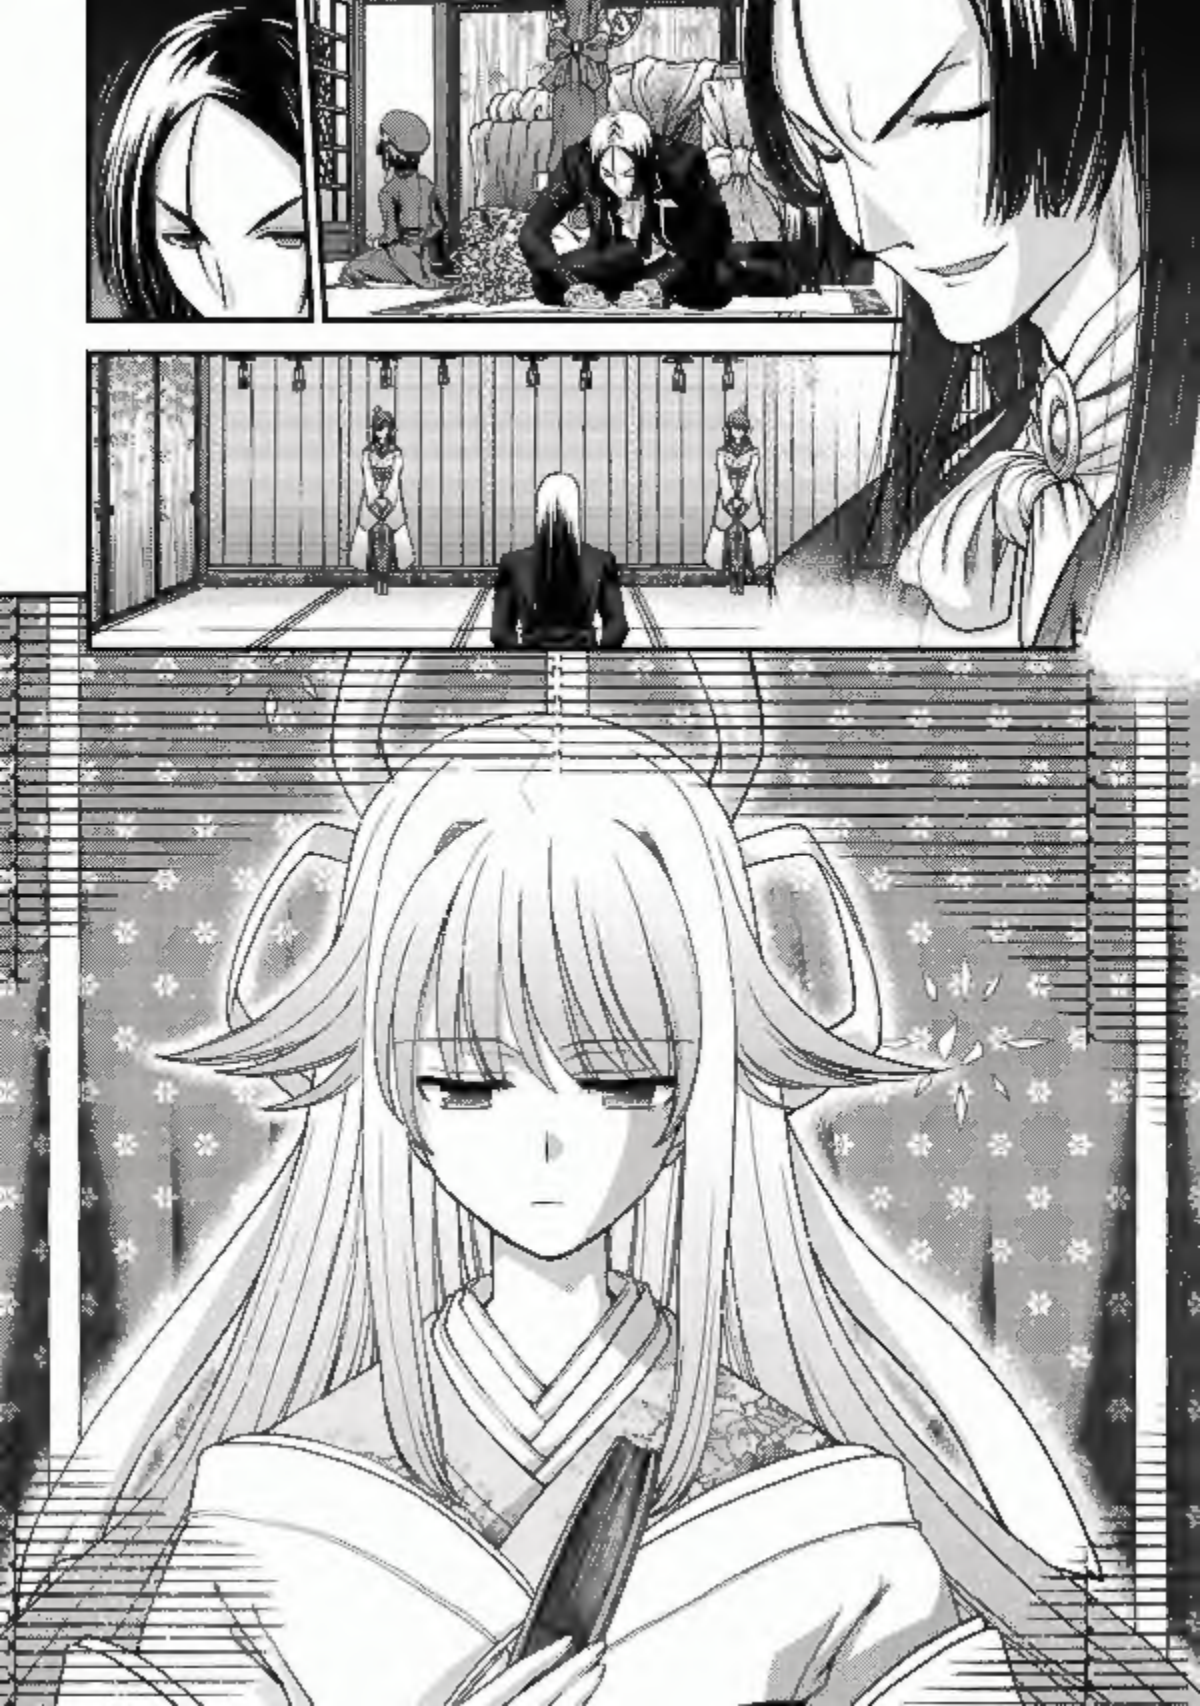
I am terribly sorry, Arishima-sama.
I wished to talk together about this island one more time.
I am surprised.
This land teems with a diversity of flowers and trees.
As well as the smiling faces of the residents ...
None of the sort is seen in my country.

This display is an existence rarer than anything on the earth.
And, also of the most
was certainly an eternal paradise.
The "glittering sea on the night of the full moon" I was able to see from the sky
...lovely.



Hey, Sui.
What beautiful flaxen hair! As if it does not belong in this world!
A pure voice like a bell.
Sheer skin just as beautiful as her elegant clothing.
Flexible and elegant movements.
I would even dare say that figure is the pride of this island!
Eyes brimming with life, just like this island!

Can I take this wig off already?
Makes my head itchy.
Besides, this kimono is heavy and too warm.
.....
At any rate, Ice-dono,
the princess agreed to the marriage conditions.
Are the Moon Fish prepared?
"This is something you can only achieve by marrying me for life."
What a sloppy picture popped into my mind...
Or tell her something to that effect...
No..I..

The moon nowadays is a one-directional world.
According to what I have heard, although there are methods to journey to the moon, there are already no methods of returning...
I believe the Princess should have already noticed this as well.

That being the case, do not tell the Princess such indirect words.
If she becomes displeased and cuts ties with me...

To have me take an unreturnable journey to the moon to catch fish in a dried-up sea...
I should consider myself quite loathed...

There is no need to...

Hey! Sui!
So, where is the Princess?
We are truly sorry, Arishima-sama.
disapointing. Unfortunately, I will have to excuse myself for tonight.
Hm..

The Princess and I made the promise to bind us together despite it not being the duty of mankind anymore.
Fufu. At this point I resign myself. Seems it must not be I after all.
!!
What an admirable self-confidence...
The people of my country worked hard to collect these.
Though the Princess seems to be no longer interested...
accept this good will courtesy?
Would not you kindly

When you are concealed under clouds just like the moon,
Ari-shima-sama
We're going back.
Yes.
I bear with eagerness our meeting in which "Dirt" can be found.
Ah..?
Then, until a not so distant day.

You are happier than I thought.
Shut up!
So, what about our Princess?
Princess
my heart is like a full moon
-Arishima

The committee believes that it is about time for you to pick someone
That again?
said before,
that I will marry anyone who can bring me the item that I wish for
"The winged mole"
"The tree that wears sapphires"
"The airplane made of water"
"The sound of the nue's cry"

This time it is the "fish on the moon
Ise said that everything you wish for is something that cannot be found on this world.
Yes.
They are all hard-to-find things.
I pose an impossible task to everyone
Princess
If you do not wish for a spouse.
I think it's fine
thank you, Sui
But you know, if there really is someone who can complete my task,

I intend to give them my entire self

Sui,
weren't you supposed to go fetch the Princess?
.....

Ise
What should we say to Yuzukura-sama?
But there we already been sixteen today it's unprecedented.
I also think that it would be the best for the Princess to find a person that she likes
Yes

Don't give up.
You don't give up either
So?
Where is the Princess?
Swimming.
In her ceremonial dress!?
Don't worry, she's wearing clothes underneath
That's not the problem here!
I won't forgive her tomorrow!

It's not like I didn't have that idea too, but Yeah
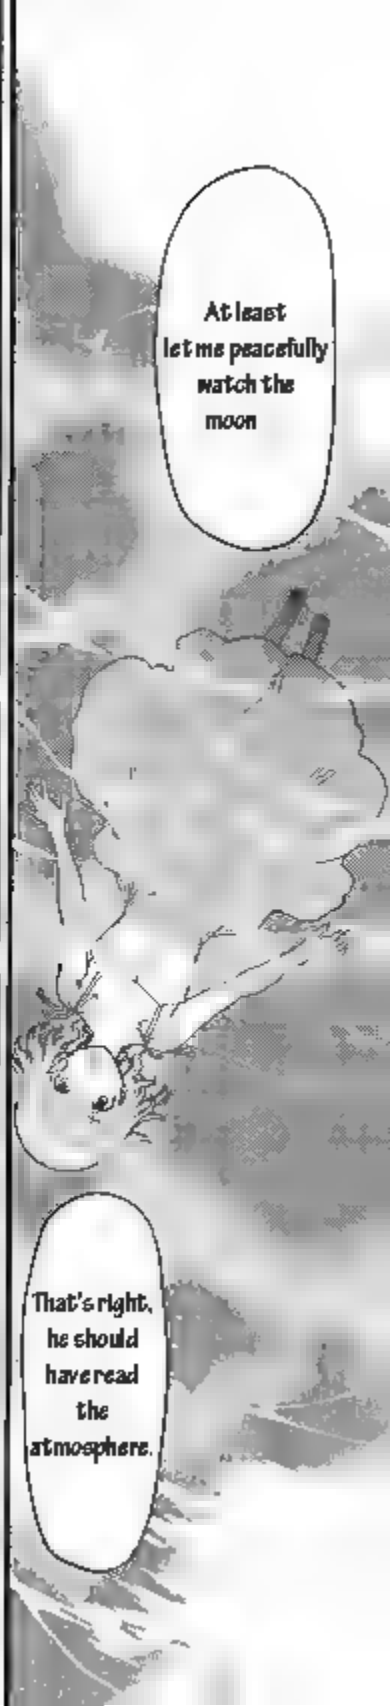
He should have known not to come during the full moon.

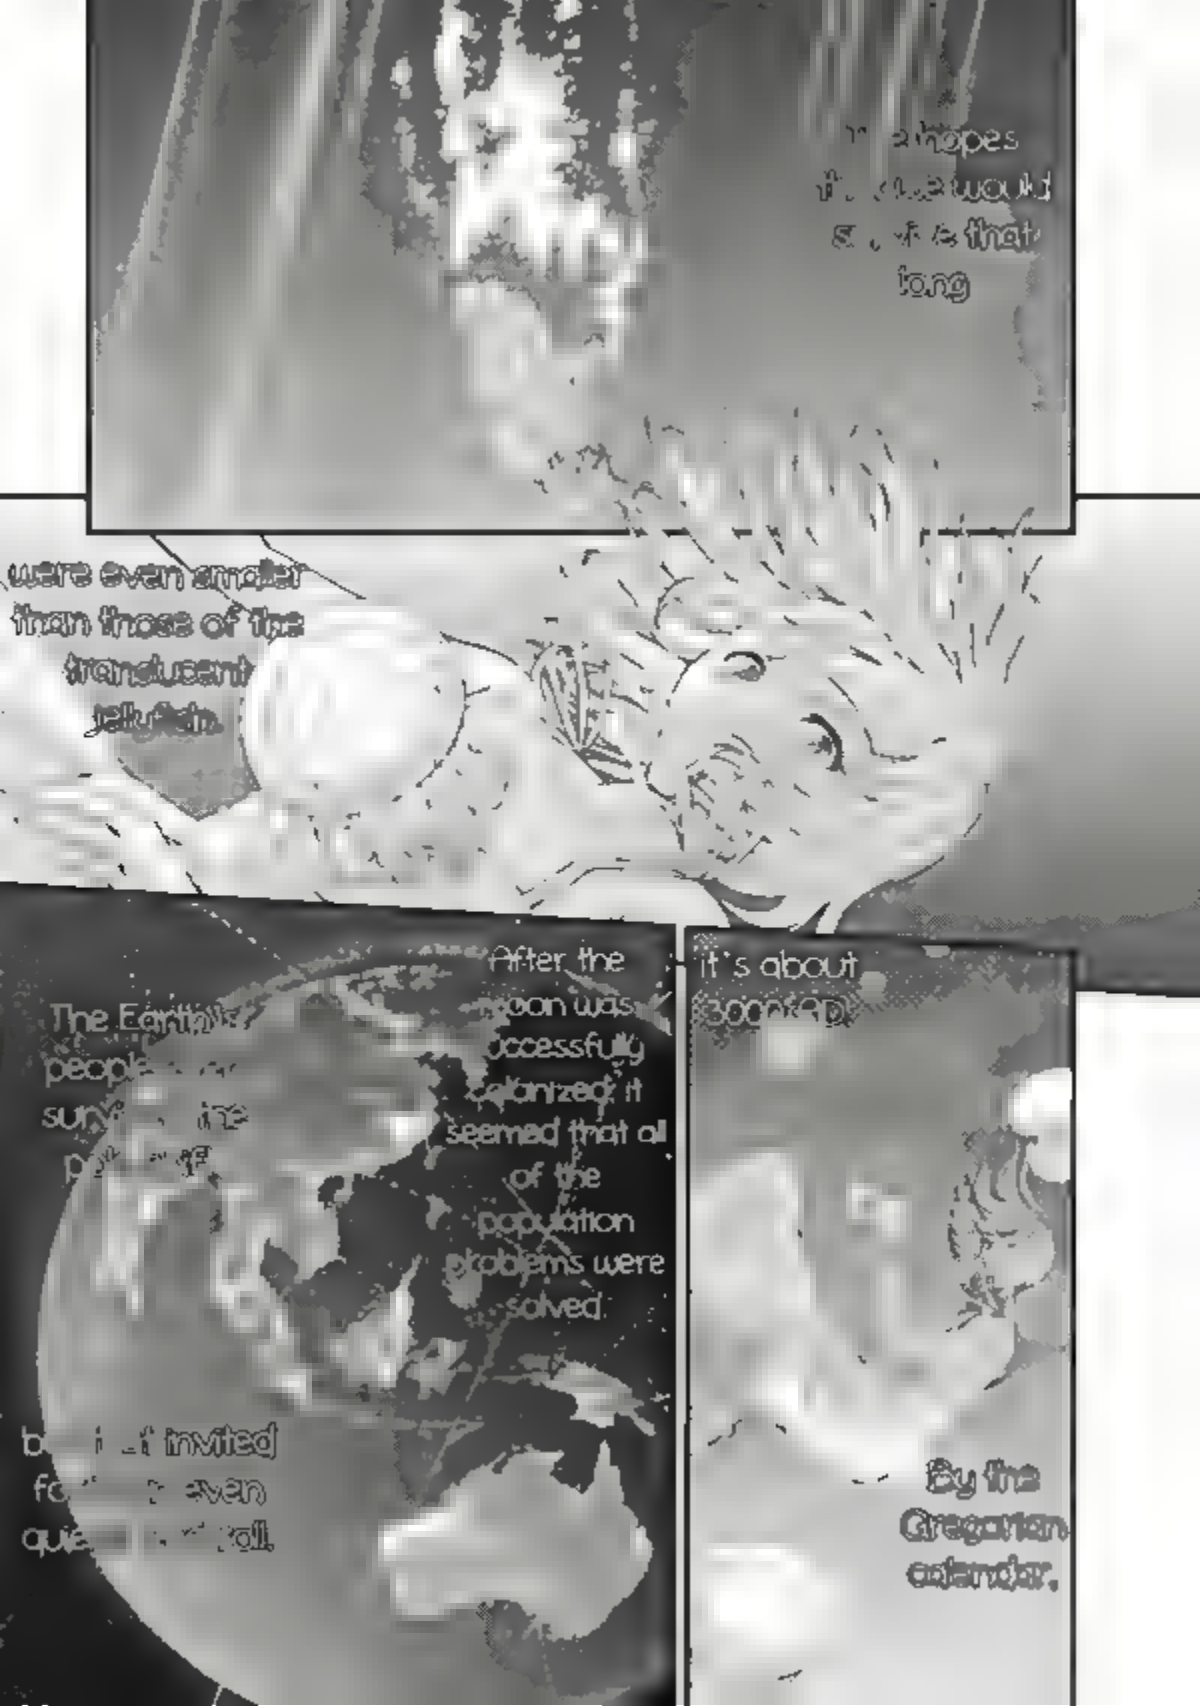
If he came to discuss "love", he should have at least considered that much.

The night of the eleventh full moon that signals the end of the year.

After another month this year will die, and we will welcome the unpremisive



At least let me peacefully watch the moon
That's right, he should have read the atmosphere.



were even smaller than those of the translucent jellyfish.
After the moon was successfully colonized, it seemed that all of the population problems were solved.
it's about 3000 A.D.
By the Gregorian calendar.

Humanity lost its passion.

It seemed as though people had just stopped
That was

Us, the modern population of the Earth.

Oh
an airplane

It seems like the prince of Arashima is leaving for home

In the cities, there are still some people who
All of "civilization" was pushed to the moon.
a few years ago there were even rumors of Judgment Day coming soon.
I believe that may be boasting about being a "meddler"
Yet, even today mankind is living and surviving

But if things go on like this...
Productivity ... Civilization.
Prosperity.
Propaga tion.
The people of this planet have lost many things.
But among those, what they have lost the most of..
Is love—

the feelings of love and sadness and the support that one gives to others,
I have long been searching for them.
the reason for the operation of the Committee for Restoring Humanity,
the truth of life,
The most important idea that people hold towards other people,
After meeting you, I understood.
Right now, I am very moved.
I believe that discovering "love" is the only way to return the prosperity of mankind.

My "love" is you!
If it were with you, I could live in even this kind of world!
No...we could even change it together!
The future of this planet!
Well then, I have a request of you.
